Mr. Milliken said that he feels that he can now report that the alleged railroad story brick dwelling at 68 V street northsmoke nuisance has been practically west, for $4,300. abated. "The railroads desire to see it reduced to a minimum, and will continu-to keep up their efforts," said Mr. Milli ken. As yet they had not been able t suming device, but they believe that by enforcing the rules as to the use of coke the desired end will be obtained.

Commissioner Macfarland replied to Mr. Milliken that he was glad to hear these statements, that he had already noted an improvement in the railway smoke emission, and that he hoped i would continue. But he added, that ! must frankly say that he believed th locomotives should be brought under the smoke law, and would ask the Commis sioners to so recommend to Congress. He said that without questioning the least the desire and purpose of the present managers of the railroads to o all that they could to help free the Na tional Capital from the smoke nuisance he felt that the railroads ought to l under the law, as well as the District plant owners. The railroad corporation ould change their policy in this matte at any time, and, in any event, the abatement of the smoke nuisance ough not to depend upon voluntary action by my person or corporation controlling moke-emitting engines. If, says Mr. Macfarland, as Mr. Milliken's report indicates, the railroads will soon be making practically no dense graor black smoke in the District of Colun bla, they will have no difficulty in con plying with the law; but, at any rate they ought certainly to be under th
